

Two Wishes For The World...

If you have been enjoying Setting The World To Rights, and feel that your life will be for naught unless you take urgent measures to, as they say, "give something back to The World", now is your chance to do just that. We are accepting submissions for The World. Anything considered (hey, we're not desperate... just... keen) – provided you are a rational person who is a) a top-notch writer, b) as witty as Frank, c) as popular as Glenn, and d) in the running for Miss World or Mr Universe.

Failing that, you could buy us a set of these satirical cards from NewsMax.com:

The Pentagon's Iraqi Most Wanted "Deck of Death" playing cards was a huge hit with Americans. Now, NewsMax.com is raising the ante – with the Deck of Weasels, depicting the 54 worst leaders and celebrities who opposed America and were key members of "The United Nations of Weasels." ...

The Ace of Spades is none other than French Prime Minister Chirac, Saddam Hussein's partner in crime of 30 years, and includes his most infamous quote: "Our position is no matter what the circumstances, France will vote 'no.'" The Washington Times' new revelation that France helped Saddam's top goons escape shows just how relevant and useful this deck is.

Each suite of the Deck of Weasels reveals America's enemies. The Spades are the most treacherous of the world's foreign leaders. The Diamonds are the most backstabbing U.S. leaders. The (bleeding) Hearts, of course, consist of Hollywood's woefully ill-informed would-be geopolitical "experts." And the Clubs include the worst of the biased media and self-appointed pundits.

The Deck of Weasels is not only great fun, it's also educational. Check out the cards and learn:

- which rock star raged: "We [expletive] deserve to get bombed. ... Bring it on, I hope the Muslims win!"

- which Hollywood has-been whined: "This is a racist and imperialist war. The warmongers who stole the White House (you call them 'hawks,' but I would never disparage such a fine bird) have hijacked a nation's grief and turned it into a perpetual war on any non-white country they choose to describe as terrorist."

- which movie star ranted: "I believe he [President Bush] thinks this is a war that can be won, but there is no such thing anymore. We can't beat anyone anymore"

- the shocking pro-Saddam comment that escaped the lips of the self-styled sweetheart of morning TV "news" (and she refuses to retract her statement!).

If that doesn't grab you, we'll have to get a tip jar. We can't have generous souls being prevented from giving a little back to The World, now can we?

Blimey...

As rational as Woty, as good at writing as Bill Whittle, as funny as Frank and as popular as Glenn...

Good luck! :-)

But Alice...

...we were thinking of you, of course! :-)
