

E. Nough on Bush

The Emperor Misha has decided that the President's decision to exempt the PLO from the provisions of the Anti-Terrorism Act 1987 is an amoral step too far, and will not vote for him again. He won't vote Democrat, he'll abstain. Amish Tech Support, unaccountably, agrees.

They're just being silly. Too silly to be worth arguing against, really. But E. Nough, in the course of doing so, makes some wise remarks on a variety of related topics, including an interesting speculation on what might have happened if Al Gore had won the last election. It's not what you think!

Oh, and while you're there at E. Nough's blog, check out his post on the significance of Mahathir Mohamad's recent antisemitic speech.

Mon, 10/20/2003 - 00:14 | permalink