

Finding Hidden Weapons in Iraq

US forces have found a major cache of weapons adjacent to a mosque in Iraq, including 317 4-foot rockets and 220 anti-tank mines.

Had Iraq's weapons of mass destruction been hidden there too, they would have been discovered today.

They would not have been discovered until today.

Moreover, these weapons were much easier to find than WMD because these weapons were in a tunnel system hidden underneath another weapons cache (is that smart, or dumb?), which was in use, so bad guys must have been coming and going there from time to time.
