

We Endorse...

We agree with E. Nough's assessment:

Tomorrow, I will vote. I will vote for George W. Bush. It's not a tough decision. Bush is a lousy communicator and has an uninspiring presence. True. But his opponent is, at core, a thoroughly deluded fool. Not only deluded, but arrogant. The man actually thinks he can bring France and Germany into Iraq by "explaining" to them "the stakes." Right. As if they don't know. What a vacuous, pompous buffoon. And, as I write this, there's a real chance it'll be President-elect Buffoon by this time next week.

Oh, and by the way, we endorse Rudi Giuliani for President in 2008.

Not Condi?

What happened to Condi 2008?

I was looking forward to Hillary vs Condi.

Condi

Condi would be great too, maybe even better, but we are having trouble ascertaining her views on issues not related to national security. Also, Rudi has a lot more political leadership experience, doesn't he?

Rudi

I want Rudi in 2008
