

Good Riddance

Solomon has a nice round-up of reactions to the death of Yasser Arafat, the mass murderer who won the Nobel Peace Prize for doing more harm to peace than anyone else since Hitler and Stalin.

This is a moment to remember his victims.

Absolutely

I really liked David Carr's comment at Samizdata:

Reports from Paris indicate that there has been a marked improvement in the condition of Yasser Arafat.

He's dead.

One major piece of filth gone

One major piece of filth gone for ever.

Very good news.
