

Search

Taking Children Seriously (The TCS Journal)

Submitted by Sarah Fitz-Claridge on 16 June, 2005 - 14:12

I started publishing Taking Children Seriously (The TCS Journal) in 1992 and finally wound up the operation in 2005, though I had not put out a journal for a number of years. Unfortunately, publishing on paper is prohibitively expensive and these days readers prefer to read the web site. Back issues are still available for those who want them. Email backissues@takingchildrenseriously.com for details.

Note that if copying and pasting that email address, you will have to add and @ sign manually. Email addresses on this site have their @ signs automatically replaced with a gif picture of an @ sign. This is to make it less likely that addresses will be harvested by spambots.

to post comments

More articles

- Introduction to Taking Children Seriously
- What should I read first?
- Taking Toys Seriously \(Yes, Really\)
- Lying About Lying
- The Importance of Video Games
- Unschooling and Academic Education 1
- Obligations And Helping One Another
- Help! Child Hates Eyepatch!