

What Saddam Was Planning When He Invaded Kuwait

Time Magazine claims to have found letters by Saddam's son Uday in one of Uday's palaces in Baghdad:

In a 1990 letter, Uday reveals that his father plans to create a greater Iraq that includes Kuwait, Palestine and Arabstan, a region of Iran historically controlled by Baghdad. The note says Saddam is beginning with the easiest – Kuwait.

“Palestine”, huh? We doubt that he can have meant just the West Bank and Gaza...

The contiguity of the relevant territories suggests that Saddam favoured the original League of Nations Mandate meaning of the term ‘Palestine’ which included today's Jordan. Which puts an interesting light on his devotion to the cause of the “liberation of Palestine”.

Sun, 04/13/2003 - 14:35 | permalink

Do you think they're in Syria...

Do you think they're in Syria? Is the US going to invade Syria next? What about Iran having nuclear weapons capability in the near future? Can the US and the UK deal with all these threats? What about N. Korea?

by a reader on Tue, 04/15/2003 - 01:20 | reply

Alive?

Is he alive? If he is, why is he parading around Baghdad, as alleged on some Arab TV stations? If not, where did this video come from? Or why is a look-alike performing for him? If he is alive, where is he?

by a reader on Fri, 04/18/2003 - 13:09 | reply

Jopa

Nice try! <http://111111nogdr09gw-w.com> raspy 222222
[url=http://33333kosi-gds.com]333333[/url] Thanks for this, seriously.

by Jopa on Sun, 05/02/2010 - 13:22 | reply