

Villepin Demands

French Foreign Minister Dominique de Villepin has demanded that the Coalition transfer power to an Iraqi government by the end of this year.

Steven Den Beste replies:

Stick your demands where the sun doesn't shine.

We'll leave Iraq when we, and the Iraqi people, are ready.

A full and valid rebuttal, in our opinion.

And the wonderful thing is, that is likely to be the response of the Coalition too. Though they will express it in even fewer words. None, to be exact. Just actions.

Sticking or Staying?

Do you mean the actions of sticking his demands where the sun doesn't shine? Or, staying in Iraq until we and the Iraqi people are ready?

I suspect putting the former on Pay-Per-View might finance the latter.

Pay-Per-View

I suspect putting the former on Pay-Per-View might finance the latter.

Yes, but Foggy Bottom might consider this a bum idea.
